

CRUEL BRITANNIA

Public talk with Heather Brooke and Ian Cobain

THOUGHTOUT
HOW IDEAS WORK

Tues 16th April, 2013.

UEA London, 102 Middlesex Street, London, E1 7EZ.

Doors 6.45pm. Start 7pm. (Latecomers may not be admitted.)

Our understanding of history is dependent upon access to historical records. What happens when those records are suppressed or destroyed, or new records challenge accepted histories?

Ian Cobain's investigative journalism surrounding UK's counter-terrorism practices since 9/11 have won a number of major awards, including Amnesty International media awards. His book was named Debut Political Book of the Year in this year's Political Book Awards.

thoughtoutproject.com

@thoughtoutwords

#TOPtalks

For further information and to register for tickets:

thoughtoutproject.com/events

UEA

University of East Anglia